INTRODUCTION

Spending, is a human need and nature to survive and thrive in this ever-changing world, so it is an important aspect to keep tab on how much we spend and where all the money goes, hence there came up a concept called as Budget. Budget helps us to regulate the money flow by articulately organizing money for each and every different aspects of life.

The proposed work is a Budget analysis of different US presidents which helps us to look into the performance of each president as well as gives us an insight into each aspect which these presidents gave utmost and at least importance during their term of the office.
